VOL. LXXIX, NUMBER 31

THIS WILL BE the Customer's Lounge in the new A & P Store when it opens on February 9. Tables and chairs for the weary shopper and free coffee are a feature of the new A & P. The doors at the right lead to public rest rooms.

New A&P Store Has 'Comfort' Areas For Tired Shoppers

Antioch housewives are going to find some pleasant surprises when the new A&P Store opens its doors on February 9.

Super-market shopping may cease to be the push-and-shove battle with tired, short-tempered fellow shoppers that's dreaded by the harried housewife. Innovations at the new A & P in Antioch's shopping plaza seem aimed at creating an atmosphere of comfort, convenience and courtesy.

First and foremost, at the beginning of the shopping area, is a Customer's Lounge, fitted with tables and chairs, and dispensing free coffee to those who wish to "set a moment" and rest. The walls of the lounge are paneled, and opening off the area are two public rest rooms for customer convenience.

In the opposite corner of the store is the Kiddie Corral, where children can pass the time while Mother shops. Tables and chairs are provided here, too, probably some comic books, says Manager Bill Parmer, to help the youngsters pass the time.

Partial supervision will be provided for the Kiddie Corral, in the person of the clerk at the nearby Courtesy Counter and other store personnel.

The Courtesy Counter is at the front of the store for customer convenience. It's for bottle return, and A & P coffee will be ground to order for the customer here.

The new store is decorated with a combination of wood paneling and pastel paint.

Product-wise, a new frozen bakery department has been added to the lines, usually offered to Antioch customers.

Parcel pick-up space will be provided at the store exit, for the customer who wants to drive his car up to the door to pick up his, or her, groceries. There's an abundance of parking space near the new A & P.

The new A & P, the first store to open its doors in the new shopping plaza, will have its Grand Opening on February 9.

On his ticket are Clarence Shuttles, candidate for Village Clerk; and Einar Peterson (incumbent), Robert Wilton, Jr., and George Palasko as candidates for the three trustee positions which are open this year.

Running as an Independent candidate for Mayor is George Boyd.

Ray Toft, of Ray's Shell Station in Antioch, has not filed a petition with the Village Clerk as yet but has definitely announced his candidacy for the office of Mayor.

He has a petition and will file before the deadline, he says.

Ray is at present a trustee on the Village Board.

Roger Williams, whose term as trustee ends this spring, says he has not decided whether or not he will run for re-election.

Last day for filing petitions is March 1. Candidates have five days after this date to withdraw their petitions.

Voters Nix Raise In Antioch High Taxes

Voters of Antioch Community High School District No. 117 turned down a 15c raise in the educational tax Saturday by a vote of 186-307.

Saturday's referendum asked the voters to raise the educational tax from 75c per $100 of assessed valuation to 90c per $100 of assessed valuation. The results as of each precinct are as follows:

Precinct 1—Antioch High School—Yes, 137; No, 210; 1 spoiled ballot.

Precinct 2—Lake Villa Grade School—Yes, 30; No, 56; 1 spoiled ballot.

Precinct 3—J. Hooper School—Yes, 19; No, 41.

The total vote cast was 495 ballots. This included 186 Yes votes, 307 No votes, and 2 spoiled ballots.

Saturday's vote was light compared to the vote cast in the last Board election. There were 700 ballots cast at that time. Superintendent Albert Dittman said that the highest vote cast in any school election in the district was about 1,400.

The Board of Education will meet Wednesday night at the high school to canvass the vote and discuss possible plans for the future. Mr. Dittman said he could not conjecture as to what steps would be taken by the board to cope with the situation until after Wednesday night's meeting discussion.

The Board had previously stated that if the referendum was turned down, the alternatives would be costly deficit financing or a cutting down of the curriculum of the school.

Plan For Next Year's Foreign Exchange Program

Members of the Antioch chapter of the American Field Service met at Antioch High School on Thursday, January 21, to make plans for next year.

William Seemann, American's Abroad coordinator, discussed the mechanics of sending an American student overseas.

The local chapter hopes to arrange to send a student abroad in 1966.

Now that another year is beginning, the chapter must apply for another foreign student to attend Antioch High next year. This entails finding another family to take in the foreign student.

Any family willing to take in the Foreign Exchange student can get applications either at the Antioch News or at the high school. The family must have a son or daughter who is a student at Antioch High, preferably a junior or senior. They must have at least an extra bed, and preferably an extra room, for the foreign student.

A committee of Mrs. Arthur Meyer, Mrs. Homer White and Mrs. Frank Kuechenmeister was appointed to invite parents to a special meeting explaining the Foreign Exchange student program. A coffee hour will be held February 7 at 3 p.m. in the high school cafeteria to which both interested adults and students are invited to learn more about the Foreign Exchange program.

The Board had previously stated that if the referendum was turned down, the alternatives would be costly deficit financing or a cutting down of the curriculum of the school.

Damage High In School Break-In

A break-in at the Oakland School last Wednesday night, Jan. 20, netted the thieves a strip film slide projector, a transistor radio, $28.00 in cash and $14.00 worth of candy. Superintendent Whitacre estimated the value of the slide projector at about $200.00.

The burglars broke a two-foot square hole in the cement wall of the vault, leaving a mess of broken building blocks and cement dust in the office. "It will cost more to repair the damage than the worth of what was stolen," Whitacre said. All office machines had to be sent to be cleaned because of cement dust, in addition to the actual damage.

The break-in was discovered by custodian Joseph Sheehan shortly after he arrived at the building at 6:30 a.m. Thursday. The hall door on the northeast side of the building had been ripped open. In addition to the vault break-in, a metal combination file and safe in the principal's office had been ripped open and damaged.

Deputy Joseph Balzrina

from the sheriff's office said he thought a pick axe, crowbar and maul had been used to break open the vault. It appears to be a professional job, he said.

A night man is at the school until 10 p.m. Whitacre said, so the break-in must have occurred between that time and 6:30 a.m. No one has reported seeing or hearing anything unusual.

Sees Mysterious Light In Sky

The "mysterious green light in the sky" which brought a flood of inquiries from Chicago residents last week was sighted also by some residents of the Antioch area.

Mrs. Frances Reeder, Rt. 1, Antioch, reports that she saw a greenish light, about the size of a basketball, in the sky last Thursday night. Mrs. Reeder said the ball of light was of elongated shape, and the color of a greenish gas flame. The light was traveling from west to east and appeared just above the tree-tops.

"It was definitely not airplane lights," Mrs. Reeder said.

Mrs. Reeder's 11-year-old daughter, Debbie, reported that she and a friend, Joan Steigkal, had seen the same light. They were not with Mrs. Reeder.

Commenting on the lights, Harry Volkman said on his weather broadcast, that the lights could have been meteors or "space junk."

Five Oldsters On Soc. Sec. For 25 Years

Five Lake County residents have been receiving Social Security benefits since January 1940, the first month that benefits were payable under the Social Security Act.

January, 1965, was a special month for these people—they received their 300th monthly social security check.

William J. Curran, Gurnee, a retired woodworker and cabinet maker who came to the Chicago area in 1916, is one of the five. He is over 90 years of age.

Jacob Kossir, 92 years of age, lives in Waukegan with his son and daughters. He is a retired Wire Mill employee.

Frank Roy Adams, over 90 years of age, lives in Waukegan with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Long, Waukegan, have both been receiving benefits since Jan. 1940. He is a retired plumber. They will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary in June. They have two children, six grandchildren, and sixteen great grandchildren.

Break Into J&L Station Third Time

The J & L Service Station on Route 173, west of Antioch was robbed again Monday night, the third time in the seven months that the station has been open for business.

Thieves broke into the station and the adjacent storage shed sometime between closing and opening time. The station closes at 10 p.m. and opens at 6 a.m.

Entry to the station was gained by breaking several panes of glass in a rear window, the same entrance used in the first break-in. This is the dark side of the station, said Vester Hargett, Rt. 4, Box 48B, Antioch, manager of the station.

Loot from the station included about 700 packs of cigarettes and $65.00 from a desk drawer, starting money for the next day's business. The locked drawer of the desk was broken open to get the money.

The thieves then broke open a locked storage shed and took eight cases of assorted stock, including oil, anti-freeze, etc.

The storage shed is in full view of the road and surrounding homes. The area is well lighted, and entry was gained through the front of the shed, in full view of the road.

EDITORIAL

Lack of Interest?

The tax increase for the Antioch High School was turned down last Saturday. The very bad weather probably conspired to keep the vote down to a very low percentage of the taxpayers—495 out of a possible vote of about 1,400.

The poor turnout leaves the Board of Education pretty much in doubt as to what actual voter sentiment is. It's generally true that the "aginners" are more zealous in getting out to vote than those who would vote in favor of the proposition.

We would suppose that the Board of Education will present the referendum again at some time in the not-too-distant future, and hope for better weather and a more favorable voter reaction.

We're not surprised that there was a small vote Saturday. Weather conditions were enough to daunt the hardest. But was it just weather that kept people from the polls?

One reader called to tell us that she called seven parents in her neighborhood Saturday to find out if they were going to vote, and was told by all seven that they weren't aware that a school referendum was being voted on.

The newspapers and the radio did all they could to inform people of the coming election. Yet a great many people didn't even know the referendum was scheduled. So how do you reach the people? How do you interest them in their school? Any suggestions?

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The decision of Warren Township Democrats to enter a slate in the April township elections came as a surprise to some because this township has generally been regarded as safely Republican, but a check of the straight votes cast in the November elections casts some doubt on this theory.

Out of a total of 4,331 votes cast in the township there were 1,197 straight GOP ballots and 1,128 straight Democratic votes.

Many normally Republican straights were split, of course, to vote for Circuit Judge Philip Yager or to vote against Barry Goldwater or Charles Percy.

These would be balanced, however, by many Democrats who crossed over to cast a vote for some of the better known local Republican candidates at the county level.

Warren Supervisor Robert Depke, who has been one of the more active and more vocal members of the Board of Supervisors, is expected at this point to win re-election, but you can't discount the act that a regular party organization has quite a bit going for it.

A strong point in Depke's favor is that the townships notoriously bring out a small percentage of the eligible voters and for the most part they are old established settlers wherein much of Depke's strength lies.

As a contrast to Warren Township the straight votes cast by Republicans in Cuba Township far outpaced the Democratic straights and virtually insure the re-election of supervisor Joseph P. Welch who is running on a GOP slate for the first time.

Much of the same can be said for Guy L. Grinnell, of Libertyville Township, which still has a solid Republican edge.

In Waukegan Township the Democrats are again entering a slate against a coalition ticket and could pose a real threat to the entrenched party.

Waukegan Assistant Supervisor John Balen, the first man elected to the board as a Democrat, has filed for Waukegan City Clerk in the municipal primary and may not be a candidate for re-election to the county board.

Others among the Waukegan contingent who are up for re-election are George Ol-

Your Congressman Reports...

The first big item on the program for "The Great Society" bears the title—Medicare.

Medicare, in fact, signifies a Federal program of hospital and nursing home care for our "aged" citizens (those 65 years of age and older). The issue is many years old, of course, being an import from continental Europe where government medical and hospital care programs have been in effect for decades.

The initial medical program in the Congress occurred in 1939 when the late Congressman Wagner of New York, Murray of Montana and Dingell of Michigan pushed for a program of universal medical and hospital care (for persons of all ages). The next big push for this legislation occurred in 1957 with the introduction of a program of hospital care for the aged sponsored by former Representative Aime Forand of Rhode Island.

More recently, legislation has been introduced in the Congress by Representative Cecil King of California and Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico. Popularly known as the King-Anderson bill, this measure provides a general program of hospital and nursing home care for citizens who participate in Social Security and who have attained the age of 65. The plan contemplates an increase in Social Security taxes in order to finance hospital care up to 90 days and nursing home care for as long as six months.

Opposition to this measure in the past has been less successful by Congressman Wilbur Mills, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Congressman Mills, together with the late Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, sponsored an alternate plan, known as the Kerr-Mills bill (which was enacted into law in 1960), providing extensive hospital and nursing home care and even medical and surgical benefits on a Federal-State matching "fund basis" for our aged citizens who are in need of such care.

Meanwhile, since the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill was first proposed in 1939, private hospital and health insurance programs have expanded manifold with the result that most citizens, including a majority of those 65 and over, are covered by some form of private medical insurance.

Notwithstanding these developments, the clamor for "Medicare" under Social Security has persisted and was specifically recommended in a recent message from President Johnson to the Congress. Congressman Mills has announced that the House Ways and Means Committee will hold early hearings on this subject. Accordingly, it is expected that one of the first major bills of this session will establish an extensive program of hospitalization for the aged will be administered separately from the Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance program. An important reason for this change is that many Members of Congress anticipate that the expense of the proposed Medicare program will far exceed the professional estimates, and few members of Congress are willing to support a measure which might jeopardize the entire Social Security program.

In any event, it is recognized that even the revised version of Medicare under Social Security contemplates establishment of a whole new Federal bureaucracy.

In the face of these and other objections, alternative proposals have been advanced. Among the alternatives is a bill sponsored by Congressman Frank Bow of Ohio. Congressman Bow's measure would permit a credit against income taxes of amounts sufficient to purchase private hospitalization and nursing home coverage. In addition, the bill provides that those citizens having inadequate income for such private insurance would receive credit

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

Well, Old Man Winter had to let us know he was still around, and brother, we won't forget him again for a while. Our personal salute to those Public Service personnel who brave dangerous icy roads and treacherous glazed poles to keep our homes warm and snug against the wintry blasts.

THE LATEST REPORT: Speaking of being out in the cold, those on the Country-side Hosp. board must feel a little rejected by the Illinois Hospital Planning Commission, and rumbles emanate from subscribers' launders each day. It may be cold and miserable, but we keep thinking if Leonard Roblin's straw hat is out, can Spring be far behind? Honest, we know the C. of C. will promote the town's facilities this year, for the benefit of those of you who caught the typographical error last week.

NOPE TO YOU: Looks like a show room for Modern Home products in a vacated Lake St. store. One thing about all this snow is that some folks were concerned with the fast growing snow removal fund, and this took care of that situation. Happy Birthday to Walt Henning, Sr., and you'll never guess how I know. The Antioch Chapter of the A.F.S. will have a coffee hour Feb. 7, in order to introduce more certificates from the Federal government in an amount sufficient to defray such insurance premiums. Under such a program, the Federal bureaucracy would be at a minimum and the main part of the expanded Medicare program would mesh with our free enterprise system.

A second alternative has been recommended by the American Medical Association under which the existing Kerr-Mills program of hospital and medical care for the aged would be liberalized to cover (in addition to the needy aged) all persons 65 years of age and older who have limited annual incomes. Consideration will be given by the House Ways and Means Committee to the alternative proposals of Congressman Frank Bow and that recommended by the American Medical Association, and possibly other variations.

The writer has been a staunch proponent of the Kerr-Mills approach to this broad problem under which hospital and medical protection is administered jointly by the state and Federal governments in those cases where a need exists.

In order to encourage additional individual responsibility, promote universal hospital and medical care for our aged citizens, a bill identical to that of Congressman Bow has been introduced by the writer and will be earnestly supported in the present session of Congress.

The issue may reach the House floor as early as March of this year. The close attention of citizens of the 12th District of Illinois, as well as that of the writer and all Members of the United States House and Senate, must be directed toward resolving this issue.

Unwise action in the United States Congress could plunge the nation into a system of socialized medicine which would unduly burden the taxpayer and jeopardize the best system of medical and hospital care which the world has ever known.

Encouragement of our existing institutions of medicine, hospitalization and private insurance would seem to follow from enactment of the Bow bill. The ultimate decision rests on the shoulders of President Johnson and the 535 Members of the United States House and Senate.

Cancer Society Film For Young Smokers

The American Cancer Society has beamed its latest educational weapon against smoking at the 10 to 12 year olds. "The Huffy, Puffy Dragon," an animated cartoon film is available and designed primarily to appeal to these very young people.

It has been found that a shocking number of children begin the smoking habit in the 4th, 5th or 6th grade. It is expected that the film will be used widely in school assembly programs.

folks to the program and a number of exchange students from the area.

THE LAST DROP: With many a bit of hoopla, the Village Board election, with a couple of surprises. Would be interesting to make a survey on why our High School district is so quick to trounce every referendum in the last six years! We hear that John Teresi is losing his Florida tan and is contemplating a West coast one, to compare their lastly qualities. And yes, we're jealous!

DID YOU HEAR? Co. cius say: Don't think I look so big that other people look small.

Editor:

Police Departments of many communities keep a record of calls from people reporting lost or found dogs.

This was most helpful, as many good family pets were reunited with their owners through this thoughtful service.

Would it be possible for the Antioch Police Department to keep such a record? I am sure that delighted owners who find their pets in this manner would be more than happy to leave a donation which would help pay for the extra "bookkeeping" involved.

Right now, we are looking for the owner of a medium size female dog—black head with stripe going down nose; white body with black specks and collar like fur. This is a fairly young dog. The dog is well trained, gentle and loves children and we would like to find its owner.

course, I would find it of special interest. I'm told there is to be an art course at our high school, beginning next year as part of the regular curriculum, and since many students have already shown interest by signing up for this course, certainly it has been established that there is need for art education right here in our community. Having it in the high school may very likely spark interest at the grade school level, where only a few teachers include art in the day's program, and we have no visiting teacher to help fill this my exercises in design, I will continue the course in the coming semester. I expect to display more work at the close of the period, again in the hope sharing an interest might become

So serious was the coal situation last week that the school board decided to close the grade school on Friday last for the period of one month. It was calculated at that time that the coal then on hand would last but a couple of weeks longer, and not even a promise of more could be procured. But with the passing of the week and the loosening of the coal situation, it was deemed advisable to reopen the school next Monday morning.

The temperature last Friday morning stood at 20 below. Wednesday morning it registered at 11 below.

THE OBSERVER

January 1940

We've been thinking of starting a campaign for some alleys for Antioch, so freight trucks wouldn't have to do their unloading on Main Street. The alleys might solve a lot of problems that arise out of people taking their dogs for walks on their neighbors' front lawns.

Sometimes, we can't help but feel a little sad because we can't be quite so up-to-date on our news as, say, the Chicago dailies. And then, again, when we notice some of our contemporaries slipping up a bit, and getting their Saturday news in by Wednesday, we figure maybe we aren't so far behind, either. And, of course, we always have the consolation that while the daily is old by the next day and the Antioch news isn't going to be old till next Thursday—and if you think this paper doesn't get read thoroughly, just try and make a mistake in it. We have readers bringing in their copies for the next three weeks, telling us about it. It makes a person feel pretty serious sometimes about writing for them. Makes you figure whatever there is in the paper, even if it isn't much has GOT to be good. And it's nice to know folks DO read things pretty thoroughly, too. Gives you sort of a nice warm friendly feeling.

Heard of a man the other day who bought a farm to raise hogs and paid for the farm with the money the government paid him for not raising hogs.

It's always pleasant to hear from folks who are far away, as well as those near at hand.

McClory Appointed To Judiciary Committee

Congressman Robert McClory (R, 12th Ill.) has been appointed to the powerful House Judiciary Committee. He is one of only two additional House Republicans to gain this coveted post and becomes the only Illinois member serving on this committee.

The House Judiciary Committee figured prominently in the last session of Congress by reason of the civil rights hearings which the committee conducted, culminating in the enactment of the bipartisan Civil Rights Act of 1964. At the current session of the Congress, the committee will be charged with review of the immigration laws as well as a re-evaluation of the nation's copyright laws. In addition, the committee is expected to consider amendments to the Federal Constitution regarding state legislative reapportionment. A number of criminal law amendments are expected to come before the committee, including a measure to make it a Federal offense to assassinate or make attempts upon the lives of the President, Vice-President or certain other Federal officials.

Congressman McClory transfers from the House Committee on Government Operations, where he served as ranking Republican member of the Subcommittee on Natural Resources and Power, as well as on the Subcommittee on Legal and Monetary Affairs. The Congressman's work on the subjects of water pollution and the coin shortage figured among highlights of his service in the 88th Congress.

Subcommittee assignments on the Judiciary Committee are expected to be announced shortly by the Chairman, Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York, and by Congressman William McCulloch of Ohio, ranking Republican member of the committee.

Avon Players Ready Now Play

The Avon players are now in rehearsal on "The Captain's Paradise" by Alec Coppel. The play, directed by Dave Behan of Grayslake, will be performed at the Avon auditorium, Rt. 83 & Rollins Rd., on Feb. 19, 20 and 21 at 8:30 p.m.

Every adult dreams of paradise here on earth. To most women, this means an ideal marriage. To men, the dream usually takes the form of the utmost in connubial bliss plus an ideal occupation to earn the wherewithal to support the happy union. Very few achieve this utopian state and most abandon working for it.

Not so with Captain Henry St. James, the hero of the drama. He found and worked out an ideal system of achieving this "Paradise." But like all man made things, it was not perfect. It had some side effects and unforeseen complications. These are the basis of this hilarious adult comedy which must be seen to be appreciated.

Sequoits Trounce Panthers 91-68

Antioch's Sequoits poured 91 points through the hoop Friday night as they trounced Round Lake 91 to 68 in a Northwest Suburban Conference game at Round Lake.

The Sequoits completely dominated the back boards as big Vic Rogers grabbed 19 of the Sequoits' rebounds while Round Lake managed only 17. Rogers led in the scoring column also with 23 points on 10 baskets and 3 free throws.

Antioch pulled out to a 25 to 11 first quarter lead and the issue was never in doubt after that, as the Sequoits outscored their foes in every stanza.

Tyrone Walls was one of the key figures in the game as he collected 5 rebounds and 16 points while turning in a fine floor game against Round Lake's pressing defense. Bernie Smith followed in the scoring column with 14 points.

The Sequoits hit 47% from the field, cashing 35 of 78 attempts. Their average from the charity line was less spectacular, getting only 21 of 35 for 60%. Round Lake had 23 of 65 from the field and 22 of 38 at the free throw line.

The Sequoits will swing back into action this weekend with two all-important games. They meet Grant on their home court Friday night and then go to Lake Forest Saturday for a game with the Scouts. Grant and Lake Forest are tied for third place in the conference standings behind second place Warren.

In their first meeting with these two squads the Sequoits lost to Grant 63 to 57 but won over Lake Forest 67 to 60. A double win for the Sequoits would give them a 9-1 record in the conference.

Weasel's Lounge Scores Over Millers In YMCA League

Danny Yates scored 20 points to spark Weasel's Lounge to a 58 to 47 win over G. L. Miller's Thursday in the Waukegan YMCA basketball league.

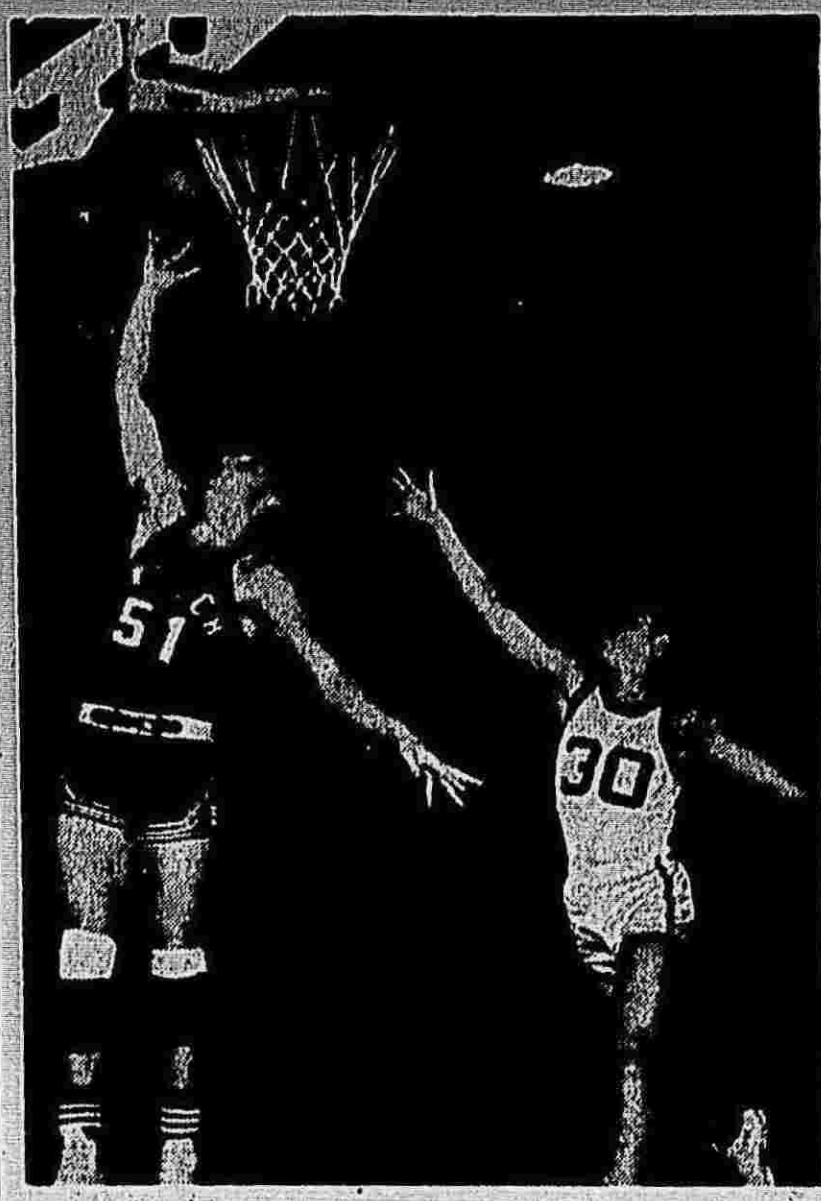

Yates, an All-State product from Salem High School, dumped in 7 field goals and 6 free throws. He was followed in scoring by Sid Parker, a 1956 Antioch graduate, with 16 points.

The Antioch quint trailed at the half 26 to 23, but put on a 22 point scoring spurt in the final stanza to ice the verdict. The win moved them into second place in the league with a record of 6-1. Posner's with 7-0, leads the league.

Varsity Mat Team Beats Lake Forest

Antioch's varsity wrestlers scored a victory over Lake Forest Friday when they beat the Scouts 27 to 19. The Soph squad didn't fare so well, however, suffering their worst defeat of the season, 33 to 11.

Winners for the varsity were Bruce Knutsen (95), John Sheppard (127), Jim Sheppard (133), Ken White (138), Brad Ipsen (165), John Patterson (180) and John Revell (hwt).

WALLY HENNING (51) lays it in for two points as a Round Lake defender tries to block it. Antioch won their seventh conference game in eight outings by defeating Round Lake 91 to 68.

Big Vic Rogers Leads Top Sequoit Team

The Sequoits began the second round of competition for the Northwest Suburban basketball title last Friday with a resounding 91 to 68 win over the Panthers at Round Lake.

The victory, plus an upset win by Grant over Lake Forest Friday, kept the Sequoits lodged in first place one game ahead of Warren. Antioch holds a record of seven wins, one loss to the trailing Blue Devils' six and two.

Statistics for the first 14 games this season show the Sequoits are scoring at a 60 points per game pace with a total of 961 points. Antioch cashed in on 323 out of 785 attempts from the field for a 42 plus average.

Key figure in the Sequoits' offense is 6'9" Vic Rogers. Operating at his low post position under the basket, Vic has dumped in 101 baskets and 39 free throws for a total of 241 points.

Rogers also leads the Sequoits in rebounding. He has picked off 57 offensive and 104 defensive rebounds since the beginning of the season. Rogers' showing at the free throw line has not been as impressive as his other statistics, hitting on 39 while missing 39 for a .500 average.

Another key figure in Antioch's offense is senior Bernie Smith. Smith has added 135 points and 87 rebounds to the Sequoits' season effort. Tyrone Walls, a sophomore, has been the Antioch quint's defense specialist, but still adds close to 10 points per game and is the Sequoits' third leading rebounder with 72.

Bob Schmitz, operating from the back court, is the team's third in scoring with 116 points. Schmitz' greatest asset to the team is his floor game and ball handling.

Tom Blackman, Mike Sterbenz and lately Wally Henning have been alternating duty at one of the forward spots. They have combined for 219 points and 105 rebounds. Blackman and Sterbenz, as juniors, are seeing their first season of varsity ball. Henning is a senior.

Other statistics show the Antioch quint has accumulated 209 assists for the 14 games, rather high compared to other Sequoit teams. Bad passes, violations and fumbles have plagued the Sequoits through much of the early season but a marked improvement has been seen in recent games.

Antioch meets Grant and Lake Forest this weekend and the following weekend will play host to second place Warren. The Sequoits beat both Warren and Lake Forest the first round but suffered their only conference loss to Grant 63 to 57.

Check Boats Now For 1965 Season

Boaters should check their lifesaving devices before the 1965 boating season begins, the Illinois Department of Conservation warned.

Life Jackets, buoyant seat cushions or any other equipment that is filled with kapoc or fiber glass must have this buoyant material encased in heat-sealed plastic bags. If the material is not in a plastic bag the device is not considered acceptable by the U. S. Coast Guard. Tests have proved that kapoc or fiber glass filling loses its buoyancy in a few years if the material is not in plastic bags.

What to tell your baby sitter before you leave

One in a series to help you enjoy better telephone service

We suggest that you give your baby sitter a list of important telephone numbers before you leave. For instance, she should know—
• where she can reach you;
• the telephone numbers of your doctor, the fire and police departments, and your neighbors;
• that the Operator is experienced in getting help in any emergency.
All your sitter needs to do is dial zero. Keep this list of numbers close to the telephone, in a conspicuous place.

Send for your "baby sitter's helper"

As a convenience to your sitter, and for your protection, we have prepared a "Baby Sitter's Helper." It's a 4 x 9 inch cardboard poster with specific places for you to list all the important telephone numbers suggested above.

Use it over and over again

The "Baby Sitter's Helper" is made of good stiff cardboard for long wear. Another feature permitting repeated use is an erasable slate. Use it to write down the number where you can be reached that evening. When you return, you merely lift the translucent paper and the slate is clean and ready to use again.

Easy to get; easy to use

Your "Baby Sitter's Helper"—with its special pencil and holder—is available for ten cents to cover the cost of mailing and handling. Just send in the coupon below. Both you and your sitter will appreciate the added assurance that it can give.

From One Line To Network In 50 Years

Scores of men from the Chicago Metropolitan Area played a vital role 50 years ago in one of the milestones in the history of communications—the first transcontinental telephone call.

The date was January 25, 1915, and dignitaries gathered in New York and San Francisco for the event included Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Watson, who assisted Bell in the invention of the telephone only 30 years before.

This army of men was stationed at key points throughout the area ready to spring into action in the event of a breakdown. These patrols traveling by auto, motorcycle, horseback or horse teams, on foot or on snow shoes, could reach any point along the phone cable route within half an hour.

Their services were not required on that day, but the next day a storm all but destroyed the Omaha-Denver portion of the line.

In all, about 130,000 telephone poles supported the four thick copper wires which stretched across cities, plains, mountains and swamps to link the two coasts.

Construction took more than two years, with planning, engineering and research taking longer than that. Today that single line has grown into 24,000 Bell System circuits linking the two coasts.

Bell, from the AT&T offices in New York, placed the first call to Watson in San Francisco.

"Ahoy! Ahoy! Mr. Watson, are you there? Do you hear me?" said Bell.

"Yes, Mr. Bell, I hear you perfectly," declared Watson.

Bell also spoke briefly through a replica of his first telephone repeating the first words ever spoken on the telephone: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you."

Later, the telephone inventor remarked, "You don't know how it affects me to see that old instrument."

From New York, the line also linked Washington, D.C., where Woodrow Wilson became the first President of the United States to talk coast to coast.

President Woodrow Wilson made his first comments to C. C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific International exposition in San Francisco, later speaking to Watson and to Bell. "It appeals to the imagination to speak across the continent," said President Wilson.

Chicago took on added significance in the telephone industry a few months later, in June, 1915. On June 15, Mayor William Hale Thompson and many other prominent in Chicago's business and civic life were guests of Bernard E. Spony, president of the Chicago Telephone Company (forerunner of Illinois), for a demonstration call to San Francisco. From that small start, today the city is the world's biggest telephone switching center.

"Hearability" of phone service has been improved and the time it takes to complete a transcontinental call has been reduced from about 23 minutes to only 43 seconds on direct-dialed calls today.

NEA Approves Johnson Plan For Education

The National Education Association, the largest organization of school teachers and administrators in the nation, has given unqualified approval of President Johnson's proposal to increase federal support of public education.

Robert E. McKay, chairman of the NEA's Legislative Commission, added that the Administration's proposal undoubtedly would have the support of all groups dedicated to excellence in education.

"Major financial support will be given by the President's plan where it is most needed, at the elementary and secondary levels, with special emphasis in areas of low economic ability and deprived cultural opportunity," McKay said.

The NEA last month proposed a program to increase federal support by $1.5 billion a year, the exact amount of the President's total proposal. It recommended a major expansion of the so-called "impact" program under which the federal government now aids school districts bearing an abnormal educational load caused by the presence of federal defense and military installations.

The Johnson message recommended that the concept of "national impact" be broadened to include the problems caused by the presence of large numbers of children from low income families—those with $2,000 or less per year.

Central High Student Wins Scholarship

Thomas Winfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Winfield, Route 1, Bristol, and a senior at Salem Central High School recently received a scholarship of $1,100 to attend the Case Institute of Technology at Cleveland, Ohio, next year.

Tom plans to work towards a degree in electrical engineering. In order to obtain this scholarship he had to take a test and receive a high academic rating. Besides the test, the scholarship was based on high school record plus an interview with the college officials.

The school is co-educational, although of the 1800 students the enrollment of girls is very slight—about 20.

The scholarship is of four-year standing, a like amount for each year, providing the recipient maintains a high scholastic rating in his first year at the college.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of Warren Edwards, who passed away just one year ago.
Within my heart
He liveth still.
Son

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our Beloved Husband, Father, Grandfather and Great-grandfather, Henry Atwell, who passed away one year ago on January 19, 1964.

LOVING MEMORIES
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Your voice is mute and stilled
Your heart,
That loved us well and true
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten, loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

Man And Wife May

File Separate or Joint Returns

A husband filing a separate Federal income tax return for 1964 cannot claim his wife's $600 exemption if she had income or was the dependent of another taxpayer. E. C. Coyle, Director of Internal Revenue for the Chicago District, said today.

Husband and wife may file a joint return even though one of them had no income or deductions for the year. If the wife had income, they may either file a joint return or separate returns. A joint return must include the income of both husband and wife. If separate returns are filed, neither may claim an exemption for the other.

For example, suppose a wife earned $400 from which $80 income tax was withheld. If she files a separate return to obtain her $80 refund, the husband cannot list her as an exemption on his return.

If husband and wife file separate returns, both must use the same type standard deduction, either the regular 10% standard or the minimum standard deduction, or both must itemize their deductions.

One cannot itemize and the other use regular 10% standard deduction. Neither can one use the regular 10% standard deduction and the other use the minimum standard deduction.

Document No. 5107 which furnishes more detailed information on this subject is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

Land Bank Sets New Loan Record

The Federal Land Bank Association of Woodstock set a new high volume record in 1964 by loaning $2,674,822.00 of new money to farmers in Lake, McHenry and Boone Counties. This is the most money in a single association in the St. Louis District, comprising Illinois, Missouri, and Arkansas, has ever loaned in a calendar year, since the Federal Land Bank started in 1917, according to Thomas L. Fred, manager of the local association.

Sixty-seven loans were closed in 1964 to achieve 205.3 per cent of the $1,300,000 goal assigned the Woodstock Association for 1964. This record year compares to 50 loans closed in 1963 for $1,086,289. This now pushes the outstanding loan balance of the Woodstock Association to over nine million dollars.

It was not only a good year for farm loans locally, but the entire district also set a new record with $64,316,989 of new money loaned. The Land Bank is a private farm co-op making long term first mortgage farm loans.

Frey is in St. Louis this week, assisting in the setting of new business goals for 1965, and to attend the annual winter meeting of Land Bank Managers from Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas.

Most heart attack victims now recover and, of those who do, three out of four return to work, according to the Chicago Heart Association which is conducting the 1965 Heart Fund Campaign here throughout February.
